

How to find a Family Doctor

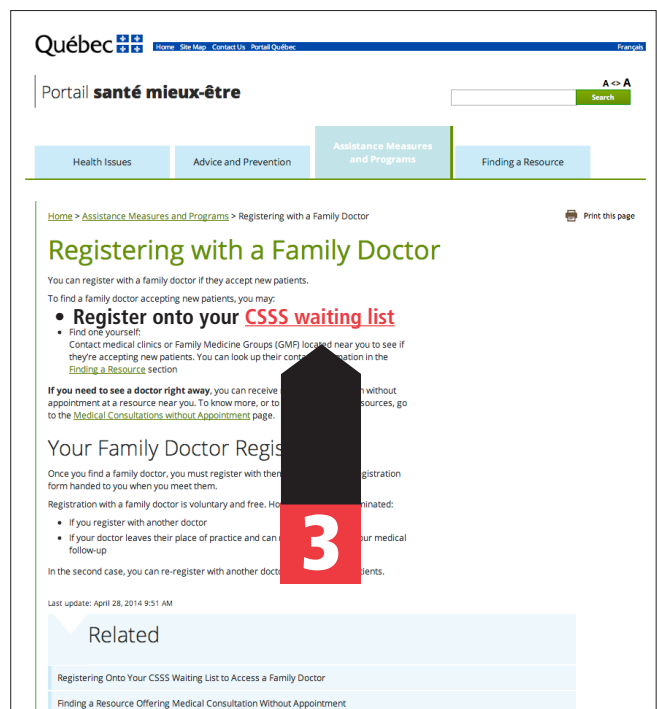

If you don't have a family doctor and you are treated for cancer, you should register to the Provincial Government Program Guichet d'accès pour les clientèles orphelines (GACO). As a cancer patient, you will be categorized as vulnerable patients, therefore your demand will be considered a priority.

To register via the Internet:

- Step 1 : Go to: <http://www.sante.gouv.qc.ca/en/> and click on Finding a Resource.
- Step 3 : On the page "Registering with a Family Doctor", follow the instructions by clicking on Register onto your CSSS waiting list.

- Step 2 : Click on Family Doctor.

Centre hospitalier affilié universitaire
A University-Affiliated Hospital Centre

CANCER CARE PROGRAM

- Step 4 : You need to identify your region CSSS. Click on Find the contact information for your CSSS waiting list. You will need to know your Postal Code.

Follow the instructions to register yourself on the waiting list of your CSSS by phone or online (if available).

- Step 5 : A nurse will contact you during the coming weeks to complete the information. Subsequently, your application will be assessed, and a priority will be attributed to it (p1 to P5) depending on several pre- determined criteria's and your vulnerability level.

To register by phone or in person:

If you don't have internet access, you can always call your local CLSC to register or to find out your CSSS phone number in order to register on the waiting list for people lacking a family physician. You can also go directly to your local CLSC and ask for the form Health questionnaire for people lacking a family physician.

A nurse may contact you during the coming weeks to complete the information. Subsequently, your application will be assessed, and a priority will be attributed to it (p1 to P5) depending on several pre-determined criteria's and your vulnerability level.

